conversation with you for a while. But if you stick with the book, you'll "get it" and appreciate the material. Excellent author to learn from about making films and writing screenplays. His focus is on techniques for telling the story through film. But screenwriters will also find the techniques valuable. 9 of 13 people found the following review helpful. Save your tuition money
By Celeste Thoms
I only had one problem with this book. He wrote on the back cover that you will save $40,000 in tuition. I don't agree. I go to film school and after the cost of room and board, eating and tuition you can pay anywhere from $80,000 - $100,000 for a BFA, not including the cost of making your films. Ok, with that said I think watching movies is a great way to learn how to make movies. It was also Alfred Hitchcock's suggestion. Obviously, it's not the only way to learn how to make movies, but it's one of the best. This book is a great teacher if you can't or don't want to go to a Film Evaluation class. This is also the cheapest way to do it. Spend the class money on this book, the suggested DVD's, and some popcorn. Enjoy.
