Pauline Kael : For Keeps: 30 Years at the Movies before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised For Keeps: 30 Years at the Movies:

During her 25-year tenure as film critic for The New Yorker, Pauline Kael established herself as one of America's most respected movie reviewers. This marvelous reprise of the most entertaining movie reviews ever written is a boon to serious moviegoers and the perfect companion in the age of the VCR. Today, the best place to find "the movies" is in books--and "the best books to go to remain those of Pauline Kael" (New York Magazine).
