The Colonial Radio Theatre, Jerry Robbins : Gettysburg - The Complete Radio Drama before purchasing it in order to gage whether or not it would be worth my time, and all praised Gettysburg - The Complete Radio Drama:

7 of 7 people found the following review helpful. A must for any Gettysburg fan! By Richard D. Stanley An excellent perspective on the battle that turned the tide of the Civil War. The sound effects used to transition from one scene to another was creative and pretty unusual. I thoroughly enjoyed listening to this rendition of the intricacies of the battle and how the key participants acted, reacted and were perceived. A must for any Civil War buff. Recommend listening to this at home instead of the car to get the full effects of the sound effects. The sound effects definitely separates this classic from the traditional type of books on tape. Instead of having a book read to you, you are there! 7 of 7 people found the following review helpful. I was awed!!!! By A Customer Imagine closing your eyes and being there! That is what this tape set was like. Little round top, Pickett's charge, Seminary ridge, and Lincoln's Gettysburg address. All of this was presented as it must have sounded. This was not your standard "listen to a noble voice" read to you a book, this was recreated magic, an old fashion radio show made modern. The acting, sound effects and music were top shelf. Congratulations to Jerry Robbins and the Colonial Radio Players for bringing this wonderful story to life. Now I will have to try their Little Big Horn production.

Book by The Colonial Radio Theatre, Jerry Robbins

"This is a high quality, digitally recorded production features top-notch actors and music...a great selection for civil War buffs...and students." -- Elaine Hanson - BOOKLIST This extremely accurate and exciting production has brought to life the three incredible days that were the battle of Gettysburg. Listen as The Colonial Radio Players bring one of the most important battles in American history back to life. Hear the cannons and and musket balls explode as you experience the most crucial battle of the Civil War! -- Executive Producer About the Author Jerry Robbins is a life long resident of the Boston area. He is an actor by trade, with credits that include stage, television, and movies. He recently completed his one hundreth radio program. Mr. Robbins researched, wrote, directed and performed in Gettysburg. From AudioFile The sound effects are good, the narration clear and crisp, the various voices even better. Yet this radio drama gets tiring after awhile, an endless spectacle of blood and dust and insects and carnage. That's what the war itself was like, of course. Here are the fatigue, the despair, the pain, the screams, the deafening cannon plowing through human ranks, death, dismemberment, despair. Sometimes the politicians are heard. More often the generals and officers and foot soldiers. One would swear that a newspaper reporter with cassette recorder in hand were dashing around the battlefield in the thick of it. D.R.W.
